Attorneys for Representative Plaintiff and the Plaintiff Class

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

SHYRAH STRICKLAND, individually, and on behalf of all others similarly situated,

Plaintiff,

DROPBOX, INC.,

Defendant.

Case No.

CLASS ACTION

COMPLAINT FOR DAMAGES

1. NEGLIGENCE;
2. BREACH OF IMPLIED CONTRACT;
3. BREACH OF THE IMPLIED COVENANT OF GOOD FAITH AND FAIR DEALING; AND
4. VIOLATION OF THE CALIFORNIA UNFAIR COMPETITION LAW CAL. BUS. & PROF. CODE §§ 17200, *ET SEQ.

[JURY TRIAL DEMANDED]

INTRODUCTION

1. Representative Shyrah Strickland ("Representative Plaintiff") brings this class action against Dropbox, Inc. ("Defendant") for its failure to properly secure and safeguard Representative Plaintiff's and/or Class Members' personally identifiable information stored within Defendant's information network, including without limitation, emails, usernames, phone numbers and hashed passwords, in addition to general account settings and certain authentication information such as API Keys, OAuth tokens, and multi-factor authentication (these types of information, inter alia, being thereafter referred to as "personally identifiable information" or "PII").[1] All such information is referred to in the aggregate herein as "Private Information."

2. With this action, Representative Plaintiff seeks to hold Defendant responsible for the harms it caused and will continue to cause Representative Plaintiff and numerous other similarly situated persons in the massive and preventable cyberattack purportedly discovered by Defendant on April 24, 2024, by which cybercriminals infiltrated Defendant's inadequately protected network and accessed the Private Information which was being kept under-protected (the "Data Breach").

3. While Defendant claims to have discovered the breach as early as April 24, 2024, Defendant failed to inform victims when or for how long the Data Breach occurred. Indeed, Defendant has yet to notify Representative Plaintiff that her information was compromised. On May 3, 2024, Representative Plaintiff received electronic messages from a third party, FundThrough, Inc. informing her that her information may have been exposed in the Data Breach. The Notice received by Representative Plaintiff was dated May 3, 2024.

4. Defendant acquired, collected and stored Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information. Therefore, at all relevant times, Defendant knew or should have known that Representative Plaintiff and Class Members would use Defendant's services to store and/or share sensitive data, including highly confidential Private Information.

5. Defendant disregarded the rights of Representative Plaintiff and Class Members by intentionally, willfully, recklessly and/or negligently failing to take and implement adequate and reasonable measures to ensure that Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information was safeguarded, failing to take available steps to prevent an unauthorized disclosure of data, and failing to follow applicable, required and appropriate protocols, policies and procedures regarding the encryption of data, even for internal use. As a result, Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information was compromised through disclosure to an unknown and unauthorized third party—an undoubtedly nefarious third party seeking to profit off this disclosure by defrauding Representative Plaintiff and Class Members in the future. Representative Plaintiff and Class Members have a continuing interest in ensuring their information is and remains safe and are entitled to injunctive and other equitable relief.

[1] Personally identifiable information ("PII") generally incorporates information that can be used to distinguish or trace an individual's identity, either alone or when combined with other personal or identifying information. 2 C.F.R. § 200.79. At a minimum, it includes all information that on its face expressly identifies an individual. PII also is generally defined to include certain identifiers that do not on its face name an individual, but that are considered to be particularly sensitive and/or valuable if in the wrong hands (for example, Social Security numbers, passport numbers, driver's license numbers, financial account numbers, etc.).

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

6. Jurisdiction is proper in this Court under 28 U.S.C. § 1332 (diversity jurisdiction). Specifically, this Court has subject matter and diversity jurisdiction over this action under 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d) because this is a class action where the amount in controversy exceeds the sum or value of $5 million, exclusive of interest and costs, there are more than 100 members in the proposed class and at least one other Class Member is a citizen of a state different from Defendant.

7. Supplemental jurisdiction to adjudicate issues pertaining to state law is proper in this Court under 28 U.S.C. § 1367.

8. Defendant is headquartered and routinely conducts business in the State where this District is located, has sufficient minimum contacts in this State and has intentionally availed itself of this jurisdiction by marketing and selling products and services, and by accepting and processing payments for those products and services within this State.

9. Venue is proper in this Court under 28 U.S.C. § 1391 because a substantial part of the events that gave rise to Representative Plaintiff's claims took place within this District, and Defendant does business in this Judicial District.

PLAINTIFF

10. Representative Plaintiff is an adult individual and, at all relevant times herein, was a resident and citizen of the State of North Carolina. Representative Plaintiff is a victim of the Data Breach.

11. Defendant received highly sensitive Private Information from Representative Plaintiff in connection with the services Representative Plaintiff received. As a result, Representative Plaintiff's information was among the data accessed by an unauthorized third party in the Data Breach.

12. At all times herein relevant, Representative Plaintiff is and was a member of the Class.

13. As required in order to obtain services from Defendant, Representative Plaintiff provided Defendant with highly sensitive Private Information.

14. Representative Plaintiff's Private Information was exposed in the Data Breach because Defendant stored and/or shared Representative Plaintiff's Private Information. Representative Plaintiff's Private Information was within the possession and control of Defendant at the time of the Data Breach.

15. Representative Plaintiff received a letter from Defendant stating Representative Plaintiff's Private Information was involved in the Data Breach (the "Notice").

16. As a result, Representative Plaintiff spent time dealing with the consequences of the Data Breach, which included and continues to include, time spent verifying the legitimacy and impact of the Data Breach, exploring credit monitoring and identity theft insurance options, self-monitoring Representative Plaintiff's accounts and seeking legal counsel regarding Representative Plaintiff's options for remedying and/or mitigating the effects of the Data Breach. This time has been lost forever and cannot be recaptured.

17. Representative Plaintiff suffered actual injury in the form of damages to and diminution in the value of Representative Plaintiff's Private Information—a form of intangible property that Representative Plaintiff entrusted to Defendant, which was compromised in and as a result of the Data Breach.

18. Representative Plaintiff suffered lost time, annoyance, interference and inconvenience as a result of the Data Breach and has anxiety and increased concerns for the loss of privacy, as well as anxiety over the impact of cybercriminals accessing, using and selling Representative Plaintiff's Private Information.

19. Representative Plaintiff suffered imminent and impending injury arising from the substantially increased risk of fraud, identity theft and misuse resulting from Representative Plaintiff's Private Information being placed in the hands of unauthorized third parties/criminals.

20. Representative Plaintiff has a continuing interest in ensuring that Representative Plaintiff's Private Information, which, upon information and belief, remains backed up in Defendant's possession, is protected and safeguarded from future breaches.

DEFENDANT

21. Defendant is a Delaware corporation headquartered in California with its principal executive office located at 1800 Owens Street, Suite 200, San Francisco, California 94518. Defendant is a cloud storage solution, equipped with features allowing users to store files, documents, and photos online and then access them from any device.[2][3]

22. The true names and capacities of persons or entities, whether individual, corporate, associate or otherwise, who may be responsible for some of the claims alleged here are currently unknown to Representative Plaintiff. Representative Plaintiff will seek leave of court to amend this Complaint to reflect the true names and capacities of such responsible parties when their identities become known.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

23. Representative Plaintiff brings this action pursuant to the provisions of Rules 23(a), (b)(2), and (b)(3) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, on behalf of Representative Plaintiff and the following class (collectively, the "Class"):

> Plaintiff Class:
> "All individuals within the United States of America whose Private Information was exposed to unauthorized third parties as a result of the data breach allegedly discovered by Defendant on April 24, 2024."

24. Excluded from the Class are the following individuals and/or entities: Defendant and Defendant's parents, subsidiaries, affiliates, officers and directors and any entity in which Defendant has a controlling interest, all individuals who make a timely election to be excluded from this proceeding using the correct protocol for opting out, any and all federal, state or local governments, including but not limited to its departments, agencies, divisions, bureaus, boards, sections, groups, counsel and/or subdivisions, and all judges assigned to hear any aspect of this litigation, as well as their immediate family members.

25. In the alternative, Representative Plaintiff may request additional subclasses as necessary based, e.g., on the types of Private Information that were compromised.

26. Representative Plaintiff reserves the right to amend the above definition or to propose subclasses in subsequent pleadings and its motion for class certification.

27. This action has been brought and may properly be maintained as a class action under Federal Rules of Civil Procedure Rule 23 because there is a well-defined community of interest in the litigation and membership in the proposed Class is easily ascertainable.

a. Numerosity: A class action is the only available method for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy. The members of the Plaintiff Class are so numerous that joinder of all members is impractical, if not impossible. Membership in the Class will be determined by analysis of Defendant's records.

b. Commonality: Representative Plaintiff and Class Members share a community of interest in that there are numerous common questions and issues of fact and law which predominate over any questions and issues solely affecting individual members, including but not necessarily limited to:

1) Whether Defendant had a legal duty to Representative Plaintiff and the Class to exercise due care in collecting, storing, using and/or safeguarding their Private Information;

2) Whether Defendant knew or should have known of the susceptibility of its data security systems to a data breach;

3) Whether Defendant's security procedures and practices to protect its systems were reasonable in light of the measures recommended by data security experts;

4) Whether Defendant's failure to implement adequate data security measures allowed the Data Breach to occur;

COLE & VAN NOTE
ATTORNEYS AT LAW
555 12TH STREET, SUITE 2100
OAKLAND, CA 94607
TEL: (510) 891-9800

5) Whether Defendant failed to comply with its own policies and applicable laws, regulations and industry standards relating to data security;

6) Whether Defendant adequately, promptly and accurately informed Representative Plaintiff and Class Members that their Private Information had been compromised;

7) How and when Defendant actually learned of the Data Breach;

8) Whether Defendant's conduct, including its failure to act, resulted in or was the proximate cause of the breach of its systems, resulting in the loss of Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information;

9) Whether Defendant adequately addressed and fixed the vulnerabilities which permitted the Data Breach to occur;

10) Whether Defendant engaged in unfair, unlawful or deceptive practices by failing to safeguard Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information;

11) Whether Representative Plaintiff and Class Members are entitled to actual and/or statutory damages and/or whether injunctive, corrective and/or declaratory relief and/or an accounting is/are appropriate as a result of Defendant's wrongful conduct; and

12) Whether Representative Plaintiff and Class Members are entitled to restitution as a result of Defendant's wrongful conduct.

c. Typicality: Representative Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of the Plaintiff Class. Representative Plaintiff and all members of the Plaintiff Class sustained damages arising out of and caused by Defendant's common course of conduct in violation of law, as alleged herein.

d. Adequacy of Representation: Representative Plaintiff in this class action is an adequate representative of the Plaintiff Class in that the Representative Plaintiff has the same interest in the litigation of this case as the Class Members, is committed to vigorous prosecution of this case and has retained competent counsel who are experienced in conducting litigation of this nature. Representative Plaintiff is not subject to any individual defenses unique from those conceivably applicable to other Class Members or the Class in its entirety. Representative Plaintiff anticipates no management difficulties in this litigation.

e. Superiority of Class Action: Since the damages suffered by individual Class Members, while not inconsequential, may be relatively small, the expense and burden of individual litigation by each member makes or may make it impractical for members of the Plaintiff Class to seek redress individually for the wrongful conduct alleged herein. Should separate actions be brought or be required to be brought by each individual member of the Plaintiff Class, the resulting multiplicity of lawsuits would cause undue hardship and expense for the Court and the litigants. The prosecution of separate actions would also create a risk of inconsistent rulings which might be dispositive of the interests of the Class Members who are not parties to the adjudications and/or may substantially impede their ability to adequately protect their interests.

28. Class certification is proper because the questions raised by this Complaint are of common or general interest affecting numerous persons, such that it is impracticable to bring all Class Members before the Court.

29. This class action is also appropriate for certification because Defendant has acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to Class Members, thereby requiring the Court's imposition of uniform relief to ensure compatible standards of conduct toward the Class Members and making final injunctive relief appropriate with respect to the Class in its entirety. Defendant's policies and practices challenged herein apply to and affect Class Members uniformly and Representative Plaintiff's challenge of these policies and practices hinges on Defendant's conduct with respect to the Class in its entirety, not on facts or law applicable only to Representative Plaintiff.

30. Unless a Class-wide injunction is issued, Defendant may continue in its failure to properly secure the Private Information of Class Members, and Defendant may continue to act unlawfully as set forth in this Complaint.

31. Further, Defendant has acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to the Class and, accordingly, final injunctive or corresponding declaratory relief with regard to the Class Members as a whole is appropriate under Rule 23(b)(2) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

COMMON FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

The Cyberattack

32. In the course of the Data Breach, one or more unauthorized third parties accessed Class Members' Private Information. Representative Plaintiff was among the individuals whose data was accessed in the Data Breach.

33. According to the publicly filed documents, Representative Plaintiff states, on information and belief, that numerous persons were affected by the Data Breach.

COLE & VAN NOTE
ATTORNEYS AT LAW

OAKLAND, CA 94607
TEL: (510) 891-9800

34. Representative Plaintiff was provided the information detailed above upon receipt from a communication from a third party, which prompted Representative Plaintiff to review publicly available documents related to the Breach. Representative Plaintiff was not aware of the Data Breach until receiving that communication from the third party.

Defendant's Failed Response to the Breach

35. Upon information and belief, the unauthorized third-party cybercriminals gained access to Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information with the intent of misusing the Private Information, including marketing and selling Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information.

36. Defendant still has not sent Notice to persons whose Private Information Defendant confirmed was potentially compromised as a result of the Data Breach.

37. Publicly available information regarding the Data Breach included, inter alia, the claim that Defendant discovered the unauthorized access leading to the Data Breach began as early as April 24, 2024.

38. Defendant had and continues to have obligations created by applicable federal and state law as set forth herein, reasonable industry standards, common law and its own assurances and representations to keep Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information confidential and to protect such Private Information from unauthorized access.

39. Representative Plaintiff and Class Members were required to provide their Private Information to Defendant in order to receive services. Thus, Defendant created, collected and stored Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information with the reasonable expectation and mutual understanding that Defendant would comply with its obligations to keep such information confidential and secure from unauthorized access.

40. Despite this, Representative Plaintiff and the Class Members remain, even today, in the dark regarding what particular data was stolen, the particular malware used and what steps are being taken, if any, to secure their Private Information going forward. Representative Plaintiff and Class Members are thus left to speculate as to where their Private Information ended up, who

ATTORNEYS AT LAW
555 12TH STREET, SUITE 2100
OAKLAND, CA 94607

has used it and for what potentially nefarious purposes. Indeed, they are left to further speculate as to the full impact of the Data Breach and how exactly Defendant intends to enhance its information security systems and monitoring capabilities so as to prevent further breaches.

41. Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information may end up for sale on the dark web, or simply fall into the hands of companies that will use the detailed Private Information for targeted marketing without Representative Plaintiff's and/or Class Members' approval. Either way, unauthorized individuals can now easily access Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information.

Defendant Collected/Stored Class Members' Private Information

42. Defendant acquired, collected, stored and assured reasonable security over Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information.

43. As a condition of its relationships with Representative Plaintiff and Class Members, Defendant required that Representative Plaintiff and Class Members entrust Defendant with highly sensitive and confidential Private Information. Defendant, in turn, stored that information on Defendant's system that was ultimately affected by the Data Breach.

44. By obtaining, collecting and storing Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information, Defendant assumed legal and equitable duties over the Private Information and knew or should have known that it was thereafter responsible for protecting Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information from unauthorized disclosure.

45. Representative Plaintiff and Class Members have taken reasonable steps to maintain their Private Information's confidentiality. Representative Plaintiff and Class Members relied on Defendant to keep their Private Information confidential and securely maintained, to use this information for business purposes only and to make only authorized disclosures of this information.

46. Defendant could have prevented the Data Breach by properly securing and encrypting and/or more securely encrypting its servers generally, as well as Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information.

COLE & VAN NOTE
ATTORNEYS AT LAW
555 12TH STREET, SUITE 2100
OAKLAND, CA 94607
TEL: (510) 891-9800

47. Defendant's negligence in safeguarding Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information is exacerbated by repeated warnings and alerts directed to protecting and securing sensitive data, as evidenced by the trending data breach attacks in recent years.

48. Due to the high-profile nature of these breaches, and other breaches of its kind, Defendant was and/or certainly should have been on notice and aware of such attacks occurring in its industry and, therefore, should have assumed and adequately performed the duty of preparing for such an imminent attack. This is especially true given that Defendant is a large, sophisticated operation with the resources to put adequate data security protocols in place.

49. And yet, despite the prevalence of public announcements of data breach and data security compromises, Defendant failed to take appropriate steps to protect Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information from being compromised.

Defendant Had an Obligation to Protect the Stolen Information

50. In failing to adequately secure Representative Plaintiff's and Class Member's sensitive data, Defendant breached duties it owed Representative Plaintiff and Class Members under statutory and common law.

51. Representative Plaintiff and Class Members surrendered their highly sensitive Private Information to Defendant under the implied condition that Defendant would keep it private and secure. Accordingly, Defendant also has an implied duty to safeguard their Private Information, independent of any statute.

52. Defendant was also prohibited by the Federal Trade Commission Act (the "FTC Act") (15 U.S.C. § 45) from engaging in "unfair or deceptive acts or practices in or affecting commerce." The Federal Trade Commission (the "FTC") has concluded that a company's failure to maintain reasonable and appropriate data security for consumers' sensitive personal information is an "unfair practice" in violation of the FTC Act. See, e.g., FTC v. Wyndham Worldwide Corp., 799 F.3d 236 (3d Cir. 2015).

53. In addition to its obligations under federal and state laws, Defendant owed a duty to Representative Plaintiff and Class Members to exercise reasonable care in obtaining, retaining, securing, safeguarding, deleting and protecting the Private Information in Defendant's possession from being compromised, lost, stolen, accessed, and misused by unauthorized persons. Defendant owed a duty to Representative Plaintiff and Class Members to provide reasonable security, including consistency with industry standards and requirements, and to ensure that its computer systems, networks and protocols adequately protected Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information.

54. Defendant owed a duty to Representative Plaintiff and Class Members to design, maintain and test its computer systems, servers and networks to ensure that all Private Information in its possession was adequately secured and protected.

55. Defendant owed a duty to Representative Plaintiff and Class Members to create and implement reasonable data security practices and procedures to protect all Private Information in its possession, including not sharing information with other entities who maintained sub-standard data security systems.

56. Defendant owed a duty to Representative Plaintiff and Class Members to implement processes that would immediately detect a breach of its data security systems in a timely manner.

57. Defendant owed a duty to Representative Plaintiff and Class Members to act upon data security warnings and alerts in a timely fashion.

58. Defendant owed a duty to Representative Plaintiff and Class Members to disclose if its computer systems and data security practices were inadequate to safeguard individuals' Private Information from theft because such an inadequacy would be a material fact in the decision to entrust their Private Information to Defendant.

59. Defendant owed a duty of care to Representative Plaintiff and Class Members because they were foreseeable and probable victims of any inadequate data security practices.

60. Defendant owed a duty to Representative Plaintiff and Class Members to encrypt and/or more reliably encrypt Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information and monitor user behavior and activity in order to identify possible threats.

Value of the Relevant Sensitive Information

61. The high value of Private Information to criminals is evidenced by the prices they will pay for it through the dark web. Numerous sources cite dark web pricing for stolen identity credentials. For example, personal information can be sold at a price ranging from $40 to $200, and bank details have a price range of $50 to $200.[4] Experian reports that a stolen credit or debit card number can sell for $5 to $110 on the dark web.[5] Criminals can also purchase access to entire company data breaches from $999 to $4,995.[6]

62. Between 2005 and 2019, at least 249 million people were affected by healthcare data breaches.[7] Indeed, during 2019 alone, over 41 million healthcare records were exposed, stolen, or unlawfully disclosed in 505 data breaches.[8] In short, these sorts of data breaches are increasingly common, especially among healthcare systems, which account for 30.03 percent of overall health data breaches, according to cybersecurity firm Tenable.[9]

63. These criminal activities have and will result in devastating financial and personal losses to Representative Plaintiff and Class Members. For example, it is believed that certain Private Information compromised in the 2017 Equifax data breach was being used three years later by identity thieves to apply for COVID-19-related benefits in the state of Oklahoma. Such fraud will be an omnipresent threat for Representative Plaintiff and Class Members for the rest of their lives. They will need to remain constantly vigilant.

64. The FTC defines identity theft as "a fraud committed or attempted using the identifying information of another person without authority." The FTC describes "identifying information" as "any name or number that may be used, alone or in conjunction with any other information, to identify a specific person," including, among other things, "[n]ame, Social Security number, date of birth, official State or government issued driver's license or identification number, alien registration number, government passport number, employer or taxpayer identification number."

65. Identity thieves can use Private Information, such as that of Representative Plaintiff and Class Members which Defendant failed to keep secure, to perpetrate a variety of crimes that harm victims. For instance, identity thieves may commit various types of government fraud such as immigration fraud, obtaining a driver's license or identification card in the victim's name but with another's picture, using the victim's information to obtain government benefits or filing a fraudulent tax return using the victim's information to obtain a fraudulent refund.

66. The ramifications of Defendant's failure to keep secure Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information are long lasting and severe. Once Private Information is stolen, particularly identification numbers, fraudulent use of that information and damage to victims may continue for years. Indeed, Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information was taken by hackers to engage in identity theft or to sell it to other criminals who will purchase the Private Information for that purpose. The fraudulent activity resulting from the Data Breach may not come to light for years.

67. There may be a time lag between when harm occurs versus when it is discovered and also between when Private Information is stolen and when it is used. According to the U.S. Government Accountability Office ("GAO"), which conducted a study regarding data breaches:

> [L]aw enforcement officials told us that in some cases, stolen data may be held for up to a year or more before being used to commit identity theft. Further, once stolen data have been sold or posted on the Web, fraudulent use of that information may

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

OAKLAND, CA 94607

continue for years. As a result, studies that attempt to measure the harm resulting from data breaches cannot necessarily rule out all future harm.[10]

68. When cybercriminals access financial information, health insurance information and other personally sensitive data—as they did here—there is no limit to the amount of fraud to which Defendant may have exposed Representative Plaintiff and Class Members.

69. A study by Experian found that the average total cost of medical identity theft is "about $20,000" per incident, and that a majority of victims of medical identity theft were forced to pay out-of-pocket costs for healthcare they did not receive in order to restore coverage.[11] Almost half of medical identity theft victims lose their healthcare coverage as a result of the incident, while nearly one-third saw their insurance premiums rise, and 40 percent were never able to resolve their identity theft at all.[12]

70. And data breaches are preventable.[13] As Lucy Thompson wrote in the DATA BREACH AND ENCRYPTION HANDBOOK, "[i]n almost all cases, the data breaches that occurred could have been prevented by proper planning and the correct design and implementation of appropriate security solutions."[14] She added that "[o]rganizations that collect, use, store, and share sensitive personal data must accept responsibility for protecting the information and ensuring that it is not compromised…."[15]

71. Most of the reported data breaches are a result of lax security and the failure to create or enforce appropriate security policies, rules and procedures. Appropriate information security controls, including encryption, must be implemented and enforced in a rigorous and disciplined manner so that a data breach never occurs.[16]

72. Here, Defendant knew of the importance of safeguarding Private Information and of the foreseeable consequences that would occur if Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information was stolen, including the significant costs that would be placed on Representative Plaintiff and Class Members as a result of a breach of this magnitude. As detailed above, Defendant knew or should have known that the development and use of such protocols were necessary to fulfill its statutory and common law duties to Representative Plaintiff and Class Members. Its failure to do so is therefore intentional, willful, reckless and/or grossly negligent.

73. Defendant disregarded the rights of Representative Plaintiff and Class Members by, inter alia, (i) intentionally, willfully, recklessly and/or negligently failing to take adequate and reasonable measures to ensure that its network servers were protected against unauthorized intrusions, (ii) failing to disclose that it did not have adequately robust security protocols and training practices in place to adequately safeguard Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information, (iii) failing to take standard and reasonably available steps to prevent the Data Breach, (iv) concealing the existence and extent of the Data Breach for an unreasonable duration of time, and (v) failing to provide Representative Plaintiff and Class Members prompt and accurate notice of the Data Breach.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF
Negligence
(On behalf of the Nationwide Class)

74. Each and every allegation of the preceding paragraphs is incorporated in this Count with the same force and effect as though fully set forth herein.

75. At all times herein relevant, Defendant owed Representative Plaintiff and Class Members a duty of care, inter alia, to act with reasonable care to secure and safeguard their Private Information and to use commercially reasonable methods to do so. Defendant took on this obligation upon accepting and storing Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information on its computer systems.

76. Among these duties, Defendant was expected:

OAKLAND, CA 94607

a. to exercise reasonable care in obtaining, retaining, securing, safeguarding, deleting and protecting the Private Information in its possession;

b. to protect Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information using reasonable and adequate security procedures and systems that were/are compliant with industry-standard practices;

c. to implement processes to quickly detect the Data Breach and to timely act on warnings about data breaches; and

d. to promptly notify Representative Plaintiff and Class Members of any data breach, security incident or intrusion that affected or may have affected their Private Information.

77. Defendant knew that the Private Information was private and confidential and should be protected as private and confidential and, thus, Defendant owed a duty of care not to subject Representative Plaintiff and Class Members to an unreasonable risk of harm because they were foreseeable and probable victims of any inadequate security practices.

78. Defendant knew or should have known of the risks inherent in collecting and storing Private Information, the vulnerabilities of its data security systems and the importance of adequate security. Defendant knew about numerous, well-publicized data breaches.

79. Defendant knew or should have known that its data systems and networks did not adequately safeguard Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information.

80. Only Defendant was in the position to ensure that its systems and protocols were sufficient to protect the Private Information that Representative Plaintiff and Class Members had entrusted to it.

81. Defendant breached its duties to Representative Plaintiff and Class Members by failing to provide fair, reasonable or adequate computer systems and data security practices to safeguard Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information.

82. Because Defendant knew that a breach of its systems could damage thousands of individuals, including Representative Plaintiff and Class Members, Defendant had a duty to adequately protect its data systems and the Private Information contained thereon.

83. Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' willingness to entrust Defendant with its Private Information was predicated on the understanding that Defendant would take adequate security precautions. Moreover, only Defendant had the ability to protect its systems and the Private Information it stored on them from attack. Thus, Defendant had a special relationship with Representative Plaintiff and Class Members.

84. Defendant also had independent duties under state and federal laws that required Defendant to reasonably safeguard Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information and promptly notify them about the Data Breach. These "independent duties" are untethered to any contract between Defendant and Representative Plaintiff and/or the remaining Class Members.

85. Defendant breached its general duty of care to Representative Plaintiff and Class Members in, but not necessarily limited to, the following ways:

a. by failing to provide fair, reasonable or adequate computer systems and data security practices to safeguard Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information;

b. by failing to timely and accurately disclose that Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information had been improperly acquired or accessed;

c. by failing to adequately protect and safeguard the Private Information by knowingly disregarding standard information security principles, despite obvious risks, and by allowing unmonitored and unrestricted access to unsecured Private Information;

d. by failing to provide adequate supervision and oversight of the Private Information with which it was and is entrusted, in spite of the known risk and foreseeable likelihood of breach and misuse, which permitted an unknown third party to gather Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information, misuse the Private Information and intentionally disclose it to others without consent;

e. by failing to adequately train its employees to not store Private Information longer than absolutely necessary;

f. by failing to consistently enforce security policies aimed at protecting Representative Plaintiff's and the Class Members' Private Information;

g. by failing to implement processes to quickly detect data breaches, security incidents or intrusions; and

h. by failing to encrypt Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information and monitor user behavior and activity in order to identify possible threats.

86. Defendant's willful failure to abide by these duties was wrongful, reckless and/or grossly negligent in light of the foreseeable risks and known threats.

87. As a proximate and foreseeable result of Defendant's grossly negligent conduct, Representative Plaintiff and Class Members have suffered damages and are at imminent risk of additional harm and damages (as alleged above).

88. The law further imposes an affirmative duty on Defendant to timely disclose the unauthorized access and theft of the Private Information to Representative Plaintiff and Class Members so that they could and/or still can take appropriate measures to mitigate damages, protect against adverse consequences and thwart future misuse of their Private Information.

89. Defendant breached its duty to notify Representative Plaintiff and Class Members of the unauthorized access by failing to notify Representative Plaintiff and Class Members and failing and continuing to fail to provide Representative Plaintiff and Class Members sufficient information regarding the breach. To date, Defendant has not provided sufficient information to Representative Plaintiff and Class Members regarding the extent of the unauthorized access and continues to breach its disclosure obligations to Representative Plaintiff and Class Members.

90. Further, through its failure to provide timely and clear notification of the Data Breach to Representative Plaintiff and Class Members, Defendant prevented Representative Plaintiff and Class Members from taking meaningful, proactive steps to, inter alia, secure and/or access their Private Information.

91. There is a close causal connection between Defendant's failure to implement security measures to protect Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information and the harm suffered, or risk of imminent harm suffered, by Representative Plaintiff and Class Members. Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information was accessed as the proximate result of Defendant's failure to exercise reasonable care in safeguarding such Private Information by adopting, implementing and maintaining appropriate security measures.

92. Defendant's wrongful actions, inactions and omissions constituted (and continue to constitute) common law negligence.

93. The damages Representative Plaintiff and Class Members have suffered (as alleged above) and will continue to suffer were and are the direct and proximate result of Defendant's grossly negligent conduct.

94. Additionally, 15 U.S.C. § 45 (FTC Act, Section 5) prohibits "unfair […] practices in or affecting commerce," including, as interpreted and enforced by the FTC, the unfair act or practice by businesses, such as Defendant, of failing to use reasonable measures to protect Private Information. The FTC publications and orders described above also form part of the basis of Defendant's duty in this regard.

95. Defendant violated 15 U.S.C. § 45 by failing to use reasonable measures to protect Private Information and not complying with applicable industry standards, as described in detail herein. Defendant's conduct was particularly unreasonable given the nature and amount of Private Information it obtained and stored and the foreseeable consequences of the immense damages that would result to Representative Plaintiff and Class Members.

96. Defendant's violation of 15 U.S.C. § 45 constitutes negligence per se. Defendant also violated the HIPAA Privacy and Security rules which, likewise, constitutes negligence per se.

97. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's negligence and negligence per se, Representative Plaintiff and Class Members have suffered and will continue to suffer injury, including but not limited to (i) actual identity theft, (ii) the loss of the opportunity of how their Private Information is used, (iii) the compromise, publication and/or theft of their Private Information, (iv) out-of-pocket expenses associated with the prevention, detection and recovery from identity theft, tax fraud and/or unauthorized use of their Private Information, (v) lost opportunity costs associated with effort expended and the loss of productivity addressing and attempting to mitigate the actual and future consequences of the Data Breach, including but not limited to efforts spent researching how to prevent, detect, contest and recover from embarrassment and identity theft, (vi) lost continuity in relation to their personal records, (vii) the continued risk to their Private Information, which may remain in Defendant's possession and is subject to further unauthorized disclosures so long as Defendant fails to undertake appropriate and adequate measures to protect Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information in its continued possession, and (viii) future costs in terms of time, effort and money that will be expended to prevent, detect, contest and repair the impact of the Private Information compromised as a result of the Data Breach for the remainder of the lives of Representative Plaintiff and Class Members.

98. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's negligence and negligence per se, Representative Plaintiff and Class Members have suffered and will continue to suffer other forms of injury and/or harm, including but not limited to anxiety, emotional distress, loss of privacy and other economic and noneconomic losses.

99. Additionally, as a direct and proximate result of Defendant's negligence and negligence per se, Representative Plaintiff and Class Members have suffered and will continue to suffer the continued risks of exposure of their Private Information, which remains in Defendant's possession and is subject to further unauthorized disclosures so long as Defendant fails to undertake appropriate and adequate measures to protect Private Information in its continued possession.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF
Breach of Implied Contract
(On behalf of the Nationwide Class)

100. Each and every allegation of the preceding paragraphs is incorporated in this Count with the same force and effect as though fully set forth herein.

101. Through their course of conduct, Defendant, Representative Plaintiff and Class Members entered into implied contracts for Defendant to implement data security adequate to safeguard and protect the privacy of Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information.

102. Defendant required Representative Plaintiff and Class Members to provide and entrust their Private Information as a condition of obtaining Defendant's services from Defendant.

103. Defendant solicited and invited Representative Plaintiff and Class Members to provide their Private Information as part of Defendant's regular business practices. Representative Plaintiff and Class Members accepted Defendant's offers and provided their Private Information to Defendant.

104. As a condition of being direct customers and/or employees of Defendant, Representative Plaintiff and Class Members provided and entrusted their Private Information to Defendant. In so doing, Representative Plaintiff and Class Members entered into implied contracts with Defendant by which Defendant agreed to safeguard and protect such non-public information, to keep such information secure and confidential and to timely and accurately notify Representative Plaintiff and Class Members if its data had been breached and compromised or stolen.

105. A meeting of the minds occurred when Representative Plaintiff and Class Members agreed to, and did, provide their Private Information to Defendant, in exchange for, amongst other things, the protection of their Private Information.

106. Representative Plaintiff and Class Members fully performed their obligations under the implied contracts with Defendant.

107. Defendant breached the implied contracts it made with Representative Plaintiff and Class Members by failing to safeguard and protect their Private Information and by failing to provide timely and accurate notice to them that their Private Information was compromised as a result of the Data Breach.

108. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's above-described breach of implied contract, Representative Plaintiff and Class Members have suffered and will continue to suffer (i) ongoing, imminent and impending threat of identity theft crimes, fraud and abuse, resulting in monetary loss and economic harm, (ii) actual identity theft crimes, fraud and abuse, resulting in monetary loss and economic harm, (iii) loss of the confidentiality of the stolen confidential data, (iv) the illegal sale of the compromised data on the dark web, (v) lost work time, and (vi) other economic and noneconomic harm.

THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF
Breach of the Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing
(On behalf of the Nationwide Class)

109. Each and every allegation of the preceding paragraphs is incorporated in this Count with the same force and effect as though fully set forth therein.

110. Every contract in this State has an implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing. This implied covenant is an independent duty and may be breached even when there is no breach of a contract's actual and/or express terms.

111. Representative Plaintiff and Class Members have complied with and performed all conditions of their contracts with Defendant.

112. Defendant breached the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing by failing to maintain adequate computer systems and data security practices to safeguard Private Information, failing to timely and accurately disclose the Data Breach to Representative Plaintiff and Class Members and continued acceptance of Private Information and storage of other personal information after Defendant knew or should have known of the security vulnerabilities of the systems that were exploited in the Data Breach.

113. Defendant acted in bad faith and/or with malicious motive in denying Representative Plaintiff and Class Members the full benefit of their bargains as originally intended by the parties, thereby causing them injury in an amount to be determined at trial.

FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
California Unfair Competition Law
Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17200, et seq.

114. Each and every allegation of the preceding paragraphs is incorporated in this cause of action with the same force and effect as though fully set forth herein

115. Defendant is a "person" as defined by Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §17201.

116. Defendant violated Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200, et seq. ("UCL") by engaging in unlawful, unfair and deceptive business acts and practices.

117. Defendant's "unfair" acts and practices include:

a. Defendant's failure to implement and maintain reasonable security measures to protect Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information from unauthorized disclosure, release, data breaches and theft, which was a direct and proximate cause of the Data Breach. Defendant failed to identify foreseeable security risks, remediate identified security risks and adequately maintain and/or improve security following previous cybersecurity incidents. This conduct, with little if any utility, is unfair when weighed against the harm to Representative Plaintiff and Class Members, whose Private Information has been compromised.

b. Defendant's failure to implement and maintain reasonable security measures, which was contrary to legislatively declared public policy that seeks to protect consumers' data and ensure that entities that are trusted with it use appropriate security measures. These policies are reflected in laws, including the FTC Act (15 U.S.C. § 45, et seq.).

c. Defendant's failure to implement and maintain reasonable security measures, which also leads to substantial consumer injuries, as described above, that are not outweighed by any countervailing benefits to consumers or competition. Moreover, because consumers could not know of Defendant's inadequate security, consumers could not have reasonably avoided the harms that Defendant caused.

d. Engaging in unlawful business practices by violating Cal. Civ. Code § 1798.82.

Defendant has engaged in "unlawful" business practices by violating multiple laws, including the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45, et seq., and California common law.

118. Defendant's unlawful, unfair and deceptive acts and practices include:

a. Failing to implement and maintain reasonable security and privacy measures to protect Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information, which was a direct and proximate cause of the Data Breach;

b. Failing to identify foreseeable security and privacy risks, remediate identified security and privacy risks and adequately maintain and/or improve security and privacy measures, which was a direct and proximate cause of the Data Breach;

c. Failing to comply with common law and statutory duties pertaining to the security and privacy of Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information, including duties imposed by the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45, et seq., which was a direct and proximate cause of the Data Breach;

d. Misrepresenting that it would protect the privacy and confidentiality of Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information, including by implementing and maintaining reasonable security measures;

e. Misrepresenting that it would comply with common law and statutory duties pertaining to the security and privacy of Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information, including duties imposed by the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45, et seq.

f. Omitting, suppressing and concealing the material fact that it did not reasonably or adequately secure Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information; and

g. Omitting, suppressing and concealing the material fact that it did not comply with common law and statutory duties pertaining to the security and privacy of Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' Private Information, including duties imposed by the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45, et seq.

119. Defendant's representations and omissions were material because they were likely to deceive reasonable consumers about the adequacy of Defendant's data security and ability to protect the confidentiality of consumers' Private Information.

120. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's unfair, unlawful and fraudulent acts and practices, Representative Plaintiff and Class Members were injured and lost money or property, including the price received by Defendant for its goods and services, monetary damages from fraud and identity theft, time and expenses related to monitoring their financial accounts for fraudulent activity, an increased, imminent risk of fraud and identity theft and loss of value of their Private Information.

121. Defendant acted intentionally, knowingly and maliciously to violate California's Unfair Competition Law and recklessly disregarded Representative Plaintiff's and Class Members' rights.

122. Representative Plaintiff and Class Members seek all monetary and nonmonetary relief allowed by law, including restitution of all profits stemming from Defendant's unfair, unlawful and fraudulent business practices or use of their Private Information, declaratory relief, reasonable attorneys' fees and costs, injunctive relief and other appropriate equitable relief.
